THE NEWS.

The Radical Mississippi delegation reported to have had an interview with the President on the Mississippi question, and to have told him that Judge Dent, his brother-in-law, was a tool of the old rebels, and had received sums of money in times past to influence votes in Congress. The President listened attentively, and agreed, if they could prove their assertions, to give the Administration support to the other candidate. The delegation are now supplied with proof, which they will lay before him.

The House Committee on Naval Af-airs propose an excursion of some days on the Lakes, to see what additional legislation is needed for the better enforcement of the revenue laws on the frontier.

At Crews, Chester county, England, an unknown man Wednesday committed suicide by throwing himself under a railway train, and on his person were found various securities, being part of the proceeds of the recent Ocean Bank robbery in New York.

The argument on the Cheney Electrical Junction case, in the Superior Court of Chicago, was concluded Wednesday evening. It is expected the court will render its decision to-day.

In the Vermont Council of Censors Wednesday, a body of men chosen to inquire if any amendments are required to the constitution of the State,

Mr. Reed, of Washington county, submitted a long report in favor of female suffrage, from the committee on that subject.

Letters have been received from the Northern Pacific Railroad exploring party, dated at Georgetown, on the Red river, north of Fort Abercrombie,

July 20th, which state that the party were in fine spirits, and about to separate, one portion pushing to the Missouri, and the other returning to St.

Paul. Prior to the trip to Superior a Government escort of sixteen soldiers from the Fort and four Sioux guides were added to the party. The next news is expected from Fort Totten.

Mr. Peabody was presented, on Wednesday, with the resolutions of the White Sulphur Springs meeting of the previous day. He responded with a feeling allusion to the condition of the Southern people, and spoke hopefully of coming prosperity which would cause the whole South to blossom. He incidentally alluded to the fact that the fund, though yet in its infancy, had accomplished much good. Eight hundred persons, half of them ladies, witnessed the presentation. A grand bill in honor of Mr. Peabody will take place there on the 11th of August.

Wm. H. Seward arrived at Victoria, Vanouver's Island, July 20th. His reception was enthusiastic. He was escorted to the Saint George Hotel, where the principal citizens, headed by the Mayor, called and presented an address of welcome. Mr. Seward visited the acting Governor, and was received in a becoming manner. He was separated, and in closing his speech expressed himself friendly to Great Britain. After visiting the forts on Poge-sound he proceeds to Alaska, and returns in about three weeks.

The two Pacific Railway Companies have had a hearing before Secretaries Cox and Boutwell, as to which company should receive the Government bonds for that section of the line between Ogden and Promontory Point,

THE CHOICE OF A SUBJECT.

There is a gentleman in this city who has conducted the same business in which he is now engaged, for nearly forty years, and whose honest pride it is there are many persons who employ him who have been with him nearly all their lives. There are more than one still in his establishment who helped him in the preliminary stages, before the concern in which they are engaged was opened for business. If the principal in this establishment is to be a day or two, or a month, the business proceeds with regularity. All hands understand their departments, and the methods in which their employer wishes the business to be conducted. But if the business is to be a permanent one, the business inclines to go to Europe, his only preparation is to pack his own trunk and leave a few general directions.

Such are the advantages he has realized, and he is now about to make making it an object for his employees to remain with him. Their positions are improved as their service lengthens, and they are able to do a great deal of business, and a large number of old hands, from a false notion of economy. New hands are not taken in to supplant, at a loss, the old ones who have been with him for years. The business is a family one.

The case of this house is by no means unique, for there are many like it.

There should be more. But the custom too prevalent, in this as in other places, of taking boys and young men and discharging them when they are competent to do men's work. A Practical Book-keeper, in a note to the Ledger, complains of this habit of employing boys, and says that it is a great obstacle to the progress of the business. The demand for clerks and other light labor is well taken, and the complaint of the Book-keeper is justified. The great fault of the business is that it is not done with the men who have given years of application to the duties of clerks, book-keepers and other light employments. In a late number of the Ledger appears an article on "The Book-keeper's Callings," which prompted our correspondent's letter.

To our correspondent we need only say that the Book-keeper is not to be done with boys, or with young men only, though from different standpoints. The very disadvantages under which the clerks labor with us are the result of the system of employment. The great fault of the busi-
